

Virginia Bruner, JD

AUSA Virginia Bruner joined the Criminal Division of the U.S. Attorney's Office in September 2014. She focuses on white collar offenses occurring in and around the Southern District of Iowa. She also serves as the Human Trafficking and National Security/Anti-Terrorism Coordinator for the office. AUSA Bruner previously worked as a law clerk in the U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland, as an associate at Covington & Burling LLP in Washington, D.C., and as an analyst for the Central Intelligence Agency. She attended New York University and the University of Virginia School of Law.

Christina Busse

Christina Busse has been working with victims of crime for the past 10 years. She received a Masters degree in 2009 from the University of Denver in forensic psychology. She began her career working with victims of domestic violence at a non-profit organization. She then went to work for the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office in Golden, Colorado in 2010 and worked as a victim specialist in the special victims unit for six years. Through this work she quickly developed a passion for working with child victims of abuse and human trafficking. Although she greatly enjoyed living and working in Denver, she was ready to get back to the Midwest and has now been working for the US Attorney's office in Des Moines as a victim specialist.

Chris Callaway

Chris Callaway is a Special Agent in the Major Crimes Unit of the Iowa Division of Criminal Investigation who instructs on the Cognitive Interview. A graduate of the University of Iowa, Special Agent Callaway is a 25 year veteran of the Iowa Department of Public Safety who works felony cases involving homicides, robberies, human trafficking, and officer-involved shootings.

Ambassador Luis C.deBaca

Ambassador Luis C.deBaca has negotiated law enforcement, labor, and human rights advances and managed multi-million dollar grant portfolios combating slavery and sexual abuse during his career in public service. Raised in Huxley and trained in the Story County Attorney's Office, C.deBaca became one of the United States' most decorated Federal Prosecutors. He built his litigation record at the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division into policy, transforming global anti-trafficking efforts and including voices of victims, workers, and advocacy community in decision-making. He investigated and prosecuted trafficking cases involving hundreds of victims, developed the modern "victim-centered" approach that is now the global standard for modern slavery cases, and was the principal DOJ drafter of the Trafficking Victims Protection Act. Ambassador C.deBaca served as Ambassador at Large to Monitor and Combat Trafficking in Persons under President Barack Obama, as well as the Director of the Office for Sex Offender Monitoring Apprehending, Registering, and Tracking. Having retired from federal service in 2017, he is working to ensure exploitation-free supply chains and financial flows and to establish information-sharing that makes communities, college campuses, and industry safer. Ambassador C.deBaca is a 2017-2018 Soros Open Society Fellow focusing on human rights issues and worker-led social responsibility. He is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and is the 2017 recipient of the Iowa State University Alumni Merit Award.

John D. Cress

John has a twenty-two years of law enforcement experience. John graduated from the University of Central Missouri in 1996 with a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice. Also in 1996, John began his career in Law Enforcement as a Police Officer with the Kansas City, Missouri Police Department. In 1999, John accepted a position as a Special Agent with the United States Secret Service, where he was assigned to Kansas City Field Office and Washington D.C. Field Office. In 2004, John accepted a position as a Special Agent with the United States Department of Labor Office of Inspector General in Kansas City, Missouri, where he is currently assigned. John's duties include examination of records, collect physical and documentary evidence, and establish contacts with law enforcement personnel and the public. Additionally duties include conducting interviews of complainants, victims, witnesses, and subject, assessment of original in-depth investigations for weaknesses and/or areas needing further attention. Prepares appropriate administrative and investigative reports and forms. Prepare written statements/affidavits from suspects, victims, and witnesses to crimes or relevant matters. Give testimony in courts of law or to magistrates pertaining to investigations regarding evidence obtained, as necessary.

Shannon Findlay, MD

Shannon Findlay is an Emergency Medicine physician and currently participating in an International Health Fellowship at the University of Iowa. In addition to her global health work, she has been active in promoting community and professional education on human trafficking. She helped develop guidelines for Emergency Medicine physicians that was published in the Annals of Emergency Medicine and is currently a part of the Johnson County Human Trafficking Collation.

Christian Gardner-Wood

Christian Gardner-Wood is a Senior Deputy District Attorney for Colorado's First Judicial District, which includes Jefferson and Gilpin Counties. Christian graduated from the University of Colorado Law School in 2007 and has spent his career as a Deputy District Attorney in the First Judicial District. In his time at the DA's Office, Christian has taken well over 100 cases to trial. Christian is currently the Human Trafficking Prosecutor for the First Judicial District. In that position, he prosecutes all human trafficking cases for the district, works on legislation and policy regarding human trafficking, and presents to the community about human trafficking. The vast majority of Christian's casework for the last five years has been focused on the prosecution of child sex offenders.

Additionally, Christian is an instructor at two law enforcement academies. He is a frequent presenter for the Colorado District Attorney's Council on the Role of Deputy DAs, Sexual Assault, and Child Abuse. Christian is also a member of several subcommittees of the Colorado Sex Offender Management Board (SOMB). Christian also serves, by appointment from Colorado Governor John Hickenlooper, as the statewide District Attorney Representative to the Colorado Human Trafficking Council.

Laura Glas

Laura Glas graduated from Iowa State University in 2014 with her Master of Science degree in Sociology with an emphasis in Criminology and Criminal Justice. In 2010, Laura began her career as an Intern with the Division of Criminal Investigation and was hired as an Information Technology Support Worker II in the Iowa Sex Offender Registry in 2012. In 2013, Laura began working as a Criminal Intelligence Analyst with the Division of Intelligence and Fusion Center and in 2016 became the liaison with Midwest High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area (HIDTA). Laura is responsible for providing investigative field support for narcotics investigations and has specialized training in facial recognition.

Tanya Gould-Street

Tanya Gould-Street, a survivor of domestic sex trafficking, child pornography, sexual abuse as a minor, and controlling relationships, is the founder of Identifiable Me, a nonprofit whose purpose is to move those who have been victimized by sexual violence towards self-discovery and their life's purpose.

Tanya serves as a mentor, consultant, advisor, trainer, and speaker on topics relating to her story. Years after being forced to drop out of college by her trafficker, she went back to college and earned her B.A.Sc. in Communications in 2015.

Tanya has been featured in over 20 interviews via television/articles, has trained/presented trafficking awareness presentations for over 100 organizations and programs in a 4-year time span both nationally and internationally. She currently serves on the following advisory boards: The CSEC Board of the Children's Hospital of the Kings and Daughters, Beloved Haven, and Street Ransom. She is a policy champion for the National Survivor Network (NSN), a consultant for the Office for Victims of Crime (OVC), Global Centurion, CHKD, Virginia Beach Justice Initiative, and the South Eastern Virginia Task Force. She is also the Chair Person for the Museum of Fine Arts Commission in the city of Portsmouth.

Tanya loves being a part of her expanding family of three adult children, their loves, and two grandbabies. She is inspired by the quote: "Just because life gave me lemons doesn't mean I have to make lemonade. I like my lemons just the way they are, I have nothing to be ashamed of....." ~ Tanya Street

David Hauptert

Lieutenant David Hauptert has been with the Dubuque Police Department since January 1994. During Lt. Hauptert's tenure, he spent the first 9.5 years in the Patrol Division. In the fall 2003 he was assigned as an Investigator in the Dubuque Drug Task Force. Upon promotion to Corporal, in the spring of 2007 he was re-assigned to the DPD Criminal Investigations Division where he worked major crimes and sexual abuse cases until being promoted to Lieutenant in the spring of 2009. Lt. Hauptert was then re-assigned to the Dubuque Drug Task Force as the City Supervisor, where he currently remains. The Dubuque Drug Task Force is not only responsible for narcotics and weapons investigations but prostitution and Human Trafficking investigations as well.

Courtney Hill

Courtney Hill is a Victim Advocate with the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office (JCSO), Criminal Investigations Division. Courtney has been in the victim services field for almost 10 years. Courtney's career began as a volunteer with Victim Outreach Information (VOI) serving 8 different police departments within Jefferson and Gilpin Counties. Upon completion of her Bachelor's Degree in Criminal Justice & Criminology, Courtney began working as a Victim Services Officer with the First Judicial District Probation Department. In this role, Courtney ensured victim's rights were met in post sentencing, including but not limited to notification of early termination, gathering victim input on revocation hearings and working side by side with probation officers to ensure victim safety and offender accountability. Since returning to the field of law enforcement victim advocacy, Courtney has been called upon to advocate for many victims of exploitation. She responds to crimes scenes and courtesy cases, such as missing children and working with high risk youth. As well as working on scene with victims, Courtney provides on going case management, referrals and resources to victims and families to help them throughout their healing. Courtney also serves as an instructor to the Regional Law Enforcement Academy on Victim's Rights and co-coordinates the Regional Volunteer Victim Advocate Academy. Recently Courtney co-trained a FBI webinar on human trafficking operations and utilizing/partnering with local law enforcement victim advocates. Courtney is a key contributor to the Jefferson County Human Trafficking Multi-Disciplinary Team (MDT) giving updated information and being available for continued contact with high-risk juveniles. She is a member of the Human Trafficking Subcommittee and co-chairs the Prevention and Protection Workgroup under the subcommittee.

Amy Jennings, JD

AUSA Amy Jennings began working at the U.S. Attorney's Office in 2011 as a term Special AUSA focusing on drug cases. In 2014, she joined the office as a full AUSA. In addition to drug offenses, AUSA Jennings works on gun, violent crime, and white collar offenses. From 2009 to 2011, AUSA Jennings served as a staff attorney for United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. From 2007 to 2009, AUSA Jennings served as a law clerk to the Honorable John A. Jarvey, U.S. District Court, Southern District of Iowa. She attended the University of Iowa and the University of Iowa College of Law.

Abigail M. Judge, Ph.D

Abigail M. Judge, Ph.D is a clinical and forensic psychologist who has worked with survivors of commercial sexual exploitation and sex trafficking since 2009. She divides her time between private practice in Cambridge, MA and the Massachusetts General Hospital (MGH) where she is on the part-time faculty at Harvard Medical School. At MGH, Dr. Judge has overseen the development of mental health services for survivors of sexual exploitation and human sex trafficking at the MGH Freedom Clinic. Dr. Judge has edited two books and published numerous journal articles, and her current research focuses on defining the role of psychology and mental health in the multidisciplinary response sexual exploitation and sex trafficking. She is frequently invited to present locally and nationally to mental health professionals, educators, attorneys, and the judiciary. Her work has been featured in the local media as well on ABC's 20/20/ Most recently she was awarded a grant from the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study to lead an international group of interdisciplinary stakeholders to develop consensus guidelines for building mental health services for adult survivors of sexual exploitation and sex trafficking. Visit Dr. Judge online at www.abigailjudge.com.

C.J. Noelck

SAC C. J. Noelck is a 23-year law enforcement veteran with service at the local and state levels. His career began as a deputy with the Franklin County Sheriff's Office in 1995. In 2000, he became a Trooper with the Iowa Department of Public Safety (DPS) Iowa State Patrol Division stationed in Atlantic. During his time with the State Patrol, he was a member of the Area B Tactical Team. In 2007, Mr. Noelck was promoted to Special Agent with the DPS Division of Intelligence and Fusion Center. In the outset of this assignment, SA Noelck developed a robust and model program for regional information sharing in southwest Iowa. In the past seven years, he has managed numerous law enforcement operations in the state that have centered on detailed operational planning, a sound communication strategy, information sharing and trust, and the use of technology. In 2013, SAC Noelck was selected by DPS leadership to serve as the Iowa Law Enforcement Intelligence Network (LEIN) Coordinator. Iowa LEIN is the oldest state and local information sharing program of its kind, founded in 1984. In 2016, C. J. was promoted to Special Agent in Charge (SAC) and oversees field operations for the Division of Intelligence. SAC Noelck has been a LEIN Member since 1997 and has been a long time firearms, open site rifle, and DPS Academy Operational Tactics Instructor. SA Noelck has extensive technical experience to include IP Video, Audio Recording, GPS Tracking and other specialized equipment utilized by Law Enforcement for Surveillance.

Shanna Parker

Shanna Parker is a national and local Survivor Leader in the Human Trafficking movement. She is the founder and CEO of AngelsGoToWork, and the Co-Director of All Walks Project and now serves hundreds of youth and young adults yearly in local group homes, college campuses and the community. She was elected this year as the Public Relations Communications Chair for the National Survivor Network, she is also Executive Chair of the Arizona Survivor Leadership Council. Shanna works with several law enforcement agencies in various capacities including training, consultation, outreach operations, and victim advocacy.

Nat Paul

Nat Paul is a transgender-identified survivor of sex trafficking. She has worked with the Office for Victims of Crime's 2016 Survivor Forum and participated in the SOAR (Stop, Observe, Ask, and Respond to Human Trafficking) Technical Working Group under the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). Ms. Paul has provided survivor input for video awareness campaigns for the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's blue campaign as well as input for the HHS awareness campaign.

Ms. Paul is a member of the National Survivor Network, as the Policy Chair, under Coalition to Abolish and Slavery and Trafficking and has assisted in a lobbying campaign to help Senator Kirsten Gillibrand (D-NY) promote federal vacate legislation to assist survivors. Ms. Paul has also delivered presentations as a survivor leader for training on dealing with victims of trafficking at the National Network for Youth's National Summit on Youth Homelessness in Washington, D.C. Ms. Paul has presented for the SHADE Symposium a survivor lead conference on marginalized populaces. Ms. Paul has presented at the Freedom Network Conference. Ms. Paul has been requested to assist with LGBTQ+ inclusive policy and training materials for the State of California as well as present on the need in the State of Iowa. Ms. Paul is also working to establish PRISM—Pride and Respect for Individuals in Sexual Minorities—which will assist in research, awareness, and long-term aftercare of lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and questioning survivors of trafficking in persons.

Wendy Macias-Konstantopoulos, MD, MPH

2018 Iowa Human Trafficking Summit – Presenter Bios

Wendy Macias-Konstantopoulos, MD, MPH is a board-certified emergency physician at Massachusetts General Hospital (MGH) and Assistant Professor of Emergency Medicine at Harvard Medical School. A graduate of the Harvard School of Public Health, she is Director of the MGH Human Trafficking Initiative and a leading expert in hospital-based anti-trafficking efforts through her research, education, public policy, and clinical care. She is founding Medical & Executive Director of the Mass General Freedom Clinic, an innovative healthcare clinic for child and adult survivors of human trafficking that won the Partnership for Freedom Reimagine Opportunity national competition. Her Expertise, collaboration, and consultation have been sought by hospital systems across the country and, among others, the American Hospital Association, American College of Emergency Physicians, Massachusetts Governor's Council on Sexual Assault and Domestic Violence, Massachusetts Attorney General's Interagency Human Trafficking Policy Task Force, UNICEF, U.S. Department of State, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, National Academy of Medicine, National Health Collaborative on Violence and Abuse, and National Human Trafficking Training and Technical Assistance Center. She publishes and lectures widely, and has been featured by local and national media entities such as NPR, WGBH, and Fox News. She is four-term Chair at the Massachusetts Medical Society Committee on Violence Intervention and Prevention and was honored with the Massachusetts Medical Society Honor Roll Award for her commitment to ending violence in all its forms. She previously worked with the International Organization for Migration's Counter-Trafficking Unit in Indonesia and represented MGH at the 2008 UN Global Forum to Fight Human Trafficking in Vienna.

Joshua Merritt

Joshua Merritt is the LGBTQ Youth Advocate for Iowa Safe Schools. As an Iowa native he helped establish the district's first Gay-Straight Alliance during his senior year. Afterward he attended the University of Iowa for undergrad and DePaul University to get his masters in social work. Prior to his role at Iowa Safe Schools he worked in Chicago with homeless and formerly homeless youth and adults in both direct service and program administration roles.

Billie McIntire, MA, LPC, LAC

Mrs. Billie McIntire is adjunct faculty at the Colorado School for Family Therapy and a member of the National Survivor Network (NSN). She brings a total of 32 years knowledge to the anti-trafficking table and, has worked in anti-trafficking efforts in Colorado since 2011. Mrs. McIntire has trained hundreds of mental health and substance abuse professionals about human trafficking. Along with volunteers, interns and graduate students at the University of Denver Human Trafficking Center, Mrs. McIntire helped to create and ultimately sign into law Senate Bill 15-030 Affirmative Defense to Human Trafficking. Together, they have worked to amend House Bill 16-1320, 16-1224, 17-1072 to ensure no collateral consequences for victims.

2018 Iowa Human Trafficking Summit – Presenter Bios

Mrs. McIntire is married to her husband Craig and they have two grandsons -Abel and Oakley. They enjoy riding their Harley Davidson Low Rider and taking their dogs - Doxi dog named Daisy and a Wheaton Terrier named Max on walks and to the dog park. She has a private psychotherapy practice - Swan Counseling Services.

Andrea Reilly, MD

Andrea Reilly, MD is board certified in internal medicine and pediatrics. She is an assistant professor at Harvard Medical School. She is a primary care physician at the Massachusetts General Hospital (MGH) Back Bay Healthcare Center where she delivers care to patients of all ages. She graduated from Harvard Medical School and trained in the Harvard Combined Medicine-Pediatrics Residency Program at Boston Children's Hospital and Massachusetts General Hospital. While working in South Africa, she helped set up the first ART program for children with HIV/AIDS in a community setting in the Cape Town informal settlements. In New Delhi, India, she served as volunteer physician for a Sisters of Charity Orphanage for children with special needs.

Dr. Reilly has been working with the MGH Freedom Clinic since its doors opened in April 2015. The Freedom Clinic is the first of its kind, an innovative multidisciplinary healthcare clinic for survivors of human trafficking. She has been learning on the job and is amazed by the resiliency of the human spirit she sees in the men and women who have endured human trafficking. The work has been enriched by the rich professional connections she has made with colleagues in the mental health team, the addiction clinic, and fellow Freedom Clinic physicians and nurse. She now teaches medicine and pediatric residents methods to deliver trauma informed care.

Amy Sciangula

Amy Sciangula is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker in Colorado and currently employed as the Coordinator for the Jefferson County Collaborative Management Program (CMP) and anti-human trafficking efforts. Amy has worked in child welfare since 1991 as a residential social worker, a youth in conflict caseworker, a child protection caseworker, a foster care certification worker and a trainer of child welfare topics for many State agencies. As the Coordinator for anti-human trafficking efforts, Amy monitors and maintains the High-Risk Victim Data Base, reviews High Risk Victim Tools submitted by the Juvenile Assessment Center, facilitates the Multi-Disciplinary Team, ensures partnerships continue to remain open, and provides Human Trafficking 101 training to professionals and community members. Amy is also a member of the After Hours Intake Team (nights/weekends) by fielding calls and responding to incidents of child abuse/neglect in Jefferson County.

Gregg Slater

Gregg Slater is an Investigator with the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office currently assigned to the FBI's Rocky Mountain Innocence Lost Task Force. Investigator Slater began his law enforcement career in 1983 with the Arlington County Sheriff's Department in Arlington, VA as a Deputy Sheriff assigned to the Detention Center. While with the Sheriff's Department, Investigator Slater represented the Sheriff's Department as a Task Force Officer with the US Marshall's Service. In 1992, Investigator Slater accepted a position as a Police Agent with the Lakewood Police Department and was assigned to the Patrol Division. In 2008, Investigator Slater was selected to represent the Lakewood Police Department as a Task Force Officer with the FBI's Rocky Mountain Safe Street Task Force. From 2012 to 2013, Investigator Slater deployed with a US Marine battalion to Sangin, Afghanistan during Operation Enduring Freedom where he trained US Marines as well as Afghan Local Police, Afghan Uniformed Police and Afghan Army personnel. Upon returning from Afghanistan, Investigator Slater worked for the Colorado Bureau of Investigation as an investigator from 2014 to 2015 at which time he accepted a position with the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office in a newly formed Human Trafficking Unit. During Investigator Slater's law enforcement career, he has conducted thousands of victim/witness interviews and suspect interviews/interrogations. In addition, Investigator Slater has served as an instructor at the Lakewood Police Academy and Red Rocks Community College law enforcement academy.

Jeremy Slight

2018 Iowa Human Trafficking Summit – Presenter Bios

Investigator Jeremy Slight has been with the Dubuque Police Department since March of 1996. Over the past 22 years Investigator Slight spent several years assigned to Patrol Duty's, 9 years as a School Resource Officer assigned to Washington Middle School and Senior High School and for the past 3 years assigned as an Investigator with the Dubuque Drug Task Force. Prior to working in Dubuque Investigator Slight was a Patrol Officer with the Vinton Police Department for 5 years. Investigator Slight is currently the local case agent on a substantial Human Trafficking investigation involving multiple victims and suspects. That case is currently being prosecuted by the United States Attorney's office, Northern District of Iowa.

Becky Smith

Becky Smith is the Iowa Safe Schools GSA Network Coordinator. In her role she promotes the empowerment and involvement of Iowa's LGBTQ* young people to create positive change to their schools. She received her bachelor's degree in social work from the University of Iowa, and has been involved in Des Moines area non-profit work, promoting inclusion and equality throughout the state of Iowa. Becky brings with her a wealth of experience working with LGBTQ* young people, and shares her knowledge on GSA organizing, youth advocacy, and intersectionality across the state. She is committed to creating safe spaces for young people in Iowa schools through youth activism and community support.

Savannah Sanders, BSW

Savannah Sanders is the Director of Community Outreach and Human Trafficking Services at Sojourner Center. She is a leading advocate in the effort to stop human trafficking in the United States. She has been involved in anti-trafficking training in Arizona and nationwide since 2010, and is particularly passionate about trauma-informed care and survivor leadership. Savannah oversees the SAFE (Safeguarding All from Exploitation) Action Project, a training program on the warning signs of human trafficking. The program is available to the community at large, but is especially relevant for the hospitality industry. The SAFE Action Project underscores the reality that domestic violence takes many forms. Over the years, many survivors of human trafficking have found shelter at Sojourner Center.

After overcoming devastating hardships in her youth, including child sex trafficking, Savannah is now living a full life as a victim's advocate, exemplifying survivor leadership both personally and professionally. Savannah earned her undergraduate degree from Arizona State University with a major in social work and minor in women and gender studies in 2014. She is now pursuing a master's in social work. She is the author of Sex Trafficking Prevention: A Trauma-Informed Approach for Parents and Professionals (Unhooked Books, 2015). She is a founding board member of Well Founded Hope, an Arizona nonprofit helping to restore the life of traumatized young women who have been sex trafficked, is an active member of a large network of human trafficking survivor advocates. Sanders shares her compelling story of abuse and recovery as a source of inspiration and motivation for audiences across the United States, providing testimony on Emmy-nominated television news segments, in sex trade documentaries, at local events and on talk radio.

Jesus Soto

Jesus Soto is the Executive Director of Proteus, an Iowa-based job training, health care, and assistance organization providing communities with health, educational, and economic opportunities since 1979. In his role Jesus Soto oversees all aspects of Proteus' work serving immigrant, minority, and low-income populations. Proteus plays a vital role in the network of Latino services in the area by helping them overcome language and cultural barriers in order to better provide for their families. Proteus provides training and healthcare services to farm and migrant workers in Indiana, Iowa, and Nebraska.

Sean Tepfer

Sean Tepfer is the National Program Manager for the Human Trafficking Prosecution Unit (HTPU) within the Criminal Section of the US Department of Justice's Civil Rights Division where he focuses on cases involving labor trafficking, international sex trafficking and sex trafficking of adults. He is the US representative to the INTERPOL Human Trafficking Expert Group. Sean previously served the Department of Justice as the HTPU Investigator and in the US Attorney's Offices in Western Washington and Western Virginia as their Law Enforcement Coordinator. Prior to joining the Department of Justice, Sean had a successful local law enforcement career with the Norfolk VA, Scottsdale AZ and Farmington NM police departments where he served in several capacities within the patrol, training and investigation divisions. Sean is also a US Navy veteran where he served six years onboard a Los Angeles class fast attack submarine. He has a Bachelor of Arts in Criminal Justice from St. Leo University and a Master of Arts in Public Administration from the University of New Mexico.

Joe Willoughby

Joe Willoughby graduated from Simpson College in 2009 with a Bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice. After college, Joe began his Department of Public Safety career with the Iowa State Patrol as a Communication Specialist. In 2013, Joe began working as a Criminal Intelligence Analyst with the Division of Intelligence and Fusion Center. Joe's current assignment is with the Social Security Administration – Cooperative Disability Investigations Unit serving under the Office of the Inspector General.

Kelly Zebroski

Kelly Zebroski is a Child Protection Intake Supervisor with Jefferson County. She has been in the Child Protection field for 18 years in both Denver and currently in Jefferson County. Kelly has worked as a caseworker and is approaching her 10th year as a supervisor. Kelly currently supervises the After Hours Intake (Nights and Weekends) team of caseworkers as well as daytime caseworkers that investigate child abuse and neglect. This team is also assigned the Human Trafficking Child Protection assessments in Jefferson County. Kelly is currently the Chair of the Jefferson County Human Trafficking Subcommittee. She was an integral member in the development and implementation of the the High-Risk Victim Identification Tool in Jefferson County. Kelly is a key contributor to the Jefferson County Human Trafficking Multi-Disciplinary Team (MDT) and has traveled the state training other counties and agencies on Human Trafficking MDT best practices. Kelly also Co-Chairs the State of Colorado Office of Children, Youth and Families – Human Trafficking Collaborative Response Work Group to help develop Child Welfare response protocol and trainings.